

PRAYER TARGET: Focus & the Love of Truth

DAY 10

Today's let's pray for "Focus and love of truth." There are SO MANY distractions but let's ask God to help us to focus, and that He help us love, believe, and stick with truth!

With everything going on in our world it's sometimes hard to block out distractions and focus completely on God. It's like standing in the middle of a heavy storm, it's hard to look past it. Sometimes you can feel surrounded, overwhelmed by the circumstances of life but look up! Your help has arrived!! Psalm 121:1-2 tells us our help comes from the Lord and the Psalmist resolves to lift up his eyes. So today we're praying that in the midst of what you're going through, what's happening around you and everything else in between that you stop, focus and look up. He's not far from you!!

We are also praying for the love of truth!! So often we hear "once saved, always saved" or "God knows my heart and the rest doesn't matter." So many reject truth because it's easier for them to believe a lie and it requires nothing out of them. Walking in truth and being saved require that you change and bow your will and desires to God's will and what He desires for your life. Ephesians 4:14-15 talks about us not being carried away with every wind of doctrine by those who lie and wait to deceive you. So we're praying that God gives the church strength and boldness to continue to walk in His will and live by His word... even when it gets hard. We're praying that God restores the backsliders and introduces Himself to the lost. Be encouraged - no matter where you're at, when we pray, God can help us as we look to Him.
